CHERRY DAY A SUCCESS

Cherry Day observed today for the benefit of the Children's Play grounds was a success. Early this morning a small sized army of girls and boys started to selling the cherries and before the noon hour almost every one on the streets, was wearing an artificial cherry on their coat lapel to help the kiddies with their playgrounds.

Mrs. T. C. Howard, chairman of the committee, stated today that she was convinced that it pays to advertise. An Alexandria lady in Atlantic City she said had just written her that she saw by the Gazette that cherry day would be observed and inasmuch as she had never failed to contribute to the cause she enclosed a check for $5 as her donation.

Preliminary Plans Provide For Exercises in Open at Conclusion of Affair—Alexandria Society in Charge.

One of the biggest demonstrations ever staged in this city is that planned by the Holy Name Societies of this city and Washington which is scheduled to be given the afternoon of Sunday May 9.

Preliminary plans for the monster demonstration were discussed last night at a meeting of the general committee of arrangements held in the Lyceum Hall presided over by J. H. McDonough, president of the local branch of the Holy Name Society.

Various subcommittees were named and these committees will submit their reports to the general committee for ratification at the next meeting.

Announcement was made that practically every organization of that society in Washington will take part in the celebration and it was roughly estimated that there will be about 5,000 in line of march. In addition many thousands of Washingtonians are expected to attend the demonstration.

Tentative plans provide for a demonstration over the principal streets and at the conclusion of the demonstration exercises will be held in the open concluding with benediction and an address by a visiting priest yet to be chosen.

IN HONOR OF WASHINGTON

Today commercially speaking, has been a dies non—that is a day in which business had been brought to a standstill. Yesterday, February 22, was the anniversary of the birth of George Washington, but, as is generally the case when the 22d falls on Sunday, Monday has been observed.

The old time 22d of Febraury parade in Alexandria was not in evidence today. The streets have presented a holiday aspect, most places of business having been closed or partially closed. The electric trains passing through Alexandria have been crowded with passengers for Mount Vernon. Wreaths were placed upon the tomb of the Father of the Country, as is always done at each anniversary of his birth.

An old resident brought to this office today a small book printed in New Haven, Conn., 110 years ago. Its title page is as follows: "Biographical Memoirs of the Illustrious General George Washington, late President of the United States of America, and Commander in Chief of their Armies During the Revolutionary War. Dedicated to the Youth of America, I. Cooke & Co., Booksellers, N. Haven."

While the little book contains substantially what appears in Woem's Life of Washington, the History of Alexandria-Washington Lodge, and other publications of by gone years, its antique printing and binding make it interesting to lovers of books, especially those fond of reading of biographies of George Washington.

THE LATE MAJOR PULLMAN

The Washington papers publish tributes of respect to the late Major Pullman, who died in that city last night after a brief illness. The Post says the death of Raymond W. Pullman, major and superintendent of police of the District of Columbia, brings great personal grief to a large circle of intimate friends. In the prime of life, not yet 38 years of age, he died after an eight days' fight with that dread antagonist, pneumonia.

"Major Pullman became head of the police of the District with no previous training in that direction. His methods were idealistic and in some respects original, but his sincerity and honesty of purpose in all that he did never was questioned. He reorganized some branches of the service, instituted what he believed to be needed reforms, and the results of his administration gave satisfaction to a large element of our population who shared his high ideals. He had his critics, but in that respect he was no different from officials in higher places, and criticism of public officials often is but the setpping stone that leads to better things. Throughout his public service Major Pullman always was a courteous official and in his private life clean, honest and upright.

"Throughout the period of the war he devoted all his time to protecting the National Capital and its citizens and gave his personal attention to every detail of that task. When disease overtook him his strength and vitality had been so overtaxed that he could not resist the attack. He died in the line of duty.

The late Major Pullman had many friends and acquaintances in Alexandria, near which city his progenitors lived.

LABOR'S DEMAND

Promptly the railway brotherhood chieftains throw their hats into the Congressional arena and give battle to the Railroad bill. "Of course," as says the Philadelphia Inquirer, "nothing else was to be expected, and nothing else could be expected of any measure under the sun that did not call for government ownership.

"Government ownership is the term always employed by the heads of the brotherhoods, but it is very misleading. It isn't government ownership that they are after at all. It is private ownership. True, the government must put up the money and acquire the railroad property (and at a low valuation), but it is virtually to be presented to the employees for their own exploitation. Such, at least, is the Plumb scheme.

"The bill which has emerged from conference committee after long and weary sessions undertakes to give the roads some sort of a chance to get upon their feet again after the President has restored them to their owners on March 1. It isn't perfect, but it is a start. But the railway unions will have nothing to do with it. Or their leaders will not.

"Congress might as well make up its mind that there is no possible way of satisfying these men short of government ownership so-called. It must realize that they demand special legislation for themselves while denouncing it for others. The one thing to do is to disregard them, for surely the time has come to make a stand against the few who would dominate the many.

"When it comes to railroads, the public has rights—and the highest rights of all. Don't forget that."

GERMANY'S WAR INDEBTEDNESS

Germany complains that it has a $50,000,000 home indebtedness, to which must be added the indemnity to be paid the Allies.

"As the Manufacturers' Record says, "Grmany fought a war purely for aggressive world domination and looting, for which it had been making ready for many years. It was a vile, vicious, murderous war.

"Between 1861-65 the South fought not for aggression, not for the purpose of looting, but for a principle which its people believed had been guaranteed by the Constitution. Indeed, seevral States, including Virginia, in the adoption of the Constitution had specifically reserved the right of withdrawal from the Union. But when the war ended the South was required to repudiate every dollar of bonds and every other form of indebtedness incurred for carrying on the war.

"Why not compel Germany to repudiate every dollar of indebtedness incurred for carrying on the war? Then all of its people would be made to realize some measure of just punishment.

"Shall America and the Allies say that murderous Germany shall be treated far better as to its own war indebtedness than was the Confederacy."

Comptroller Williams in his annual report says:

"The Comptroller suggests that Germany's vast internal debt should be subordinated to the payment of the allied nations. The internal German debt is largely owed by the Government to the junker or former governing and capitalistic classes, and the subordination of her internal debt to her external obligations would require the junkers and other capitalists of Germany, while waiting until their country can pay interest on their holdings, to go to work, and in so doing aid in increasing the productive capacity of the nation."

CARDINAL'S LETTER

The pastoral letter dealing with church and social problems, composed by the heads of the Catholic hierarchy in the United States and signed by Cardinal Gibbons, was read in all Catholic Churches throughout the nation yesterday at the late masses. It was received with serious attention by the outpourings of Catholics, thousands of whom had prepared themselves to take its spiritual message to heart by attendance at the sacrament of holy communion.

Discussing the text of the letter, prominent Catholics considered it rather as a sound, logical and broad affirmation of the ethical principles the Catholic hierarchy always has considered as underlying national life, rather than as bringing to light any new viewpoint of the church. The chapters on marriage and divorce and on labor and capital were pointed out as furnishing exceptional food for thought.

Unqualified admiration was expressed for the direction and simplicity of the wording of the letter. It was characterized as simple enough to be comprehended easily by the most unlearned, yet offering sound guidance to the wisest of men.

WILLIAM HOHENZOLLERN

I wonder what the Kaiser thinks
when he lies down at night,
Or if he can go right to sleep when he turns out the light,
I wonder if he lies awake to toss and twist and turn,
And think how countless thousands pray and curse and weep and yearn
Or, thinking of ten million men now underneath the sod,
I wonder if he still believes that he was backed by God.
I wonder what the Kaiser thinks
when he is all alone,
Now he is just a man, far from the glamour of the throne,
His princes all are still alive, safe
from the murderous guns;
I wonder if he thinks of those who mourn their missing sons,
Does he believe the Iron Cross bestowed on those who fell Will comfort the sad mothers who have learned that war is hell?
I wonder what the Kaiser thinks
now he is down and out,
He used to pray, and preach, and pose as one who was devout,
I wonder if he realizes now that he was not
A special friend and partner of his
"good old German Gott," He's lonely and deserted now, a man
without a friend,
He's lived his life just for himself—
now what will be the end?

COMPROMISE RAILWAY BILL

In the passageway of the Railway bill in the House the only unexpected feature was the large majority for the measure. It seems a fair assumption that the enlarged vote was in some degree due to the threats of labor leaders, who openly announced that campaigns would be made to defeat every Congressman of either House who supported the measure.

That the Senate will pass the bill this week is considered certain, if for no other reason than that its failure would develop chaos. Its opponents are said to be centering their efforts on the President in the hope that he will veto it. Nothing seems less likely, for in general the measure is approved by the Railway administration, and President Wilson would not care to take responsibility for all of the inevitable results of negative action.

What commends the proposed law to the average man is that for the first time in such legislation the general public is given a share in control of certain features. Leaders of labor unions object to the check on strikes which the bill contains, and that is precisely its most admirable section. It would be possible for a general strike to plunge the country into rapid ruin, and that must be avoided. We do not believe that the labor leaders at Washington really represent the great body of employees in insisting upon having a club with which to beat out the brains of the public. The arbitration board erected under the bill seems fair and no one has a right to deny fairness to the public or to any other factor in the situation.

There is nothing in the bill which deprives employees of any real right. On the contrary, they are well protected, as are the stockholders; but the great public gets a chance to express itself, while the Interstate Commerce Commission becomes practically a super board of direction with certain prescribed duties, which personal opinions cannot hinder.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Trouble is said to have been expected in Petersburg last night by labor people from British-American Tobacco Company pickets failed to materialize at the meeting of the Central Trades and Labor Council. At the request of labor officials, Mayor Gilliam stationed policemen on the outside of the hall. British American officials declare that a statement made by labor people to the effect that a number of men and women have been discharged because of their affiliation with a recently organized tobacco workers' union is false.

Standing besides his wife, as both finished reading the Lord's Prayer with the congregation that filled St. Joseph's Church of the Palisades at West New York, N. J., yesterday, Charles Weed, a traveling salesman, from Newport News, Va., dropped unconsciousness in the pew and died a few minutes later in the vestry, unknown to any of the 500 worshippers.

Hugh McInturff, aged 40 years, who died near Woodstock several days ago, is said to have come to his death by drinking bay rum or a home-made concoction known as "tamrack." Town Sergeant Finks found the man lying on the floor at his home, and he complained of suffering intense abdominal pains.

Influenza has reached Stuart, the county seat of Patrick county, where a number of people have developed the malady during the past few days Public meetings have been canceled and the schools closed. The regular term of court at Wentworth, N. C., has been postponed on account of influenza, and at Reidsville, N. C., an emergency hospital has been opened, the first inmates being 7 children found helpless in a farmhouse. Their mother died last week from the disease. The epidemic continues to spread.

Appointent of a legislative committee on self-insurance for State property, whose duty it will be to investigate the advisability of the State of Virginia becoming a self-insurer, and to prepare such legislation as the committee may deem advisable to this end, reporting back to the next regular session of the General Assembly, is provided in a bill introduced in the House yesterday by Delegate Bosman, of Newport News.

Five members of the Roanoke Fire Department, including a station captain, were discharged by City Manager W. P. Hunter Saturday because of their activities "in connection with the organization of a local of the International Association of Fire Fighters, which would indirectly affiliate with the American Federation of Labor," the city manager announced. Mr. Hunter's action was upheld by the City Commission, which declared unions for municipal organizations are "contrary to public policy."

URGES BUSINESS METHODS

R. Walton Moore Offers Joint Resolution to Provide for Business-like Changes

Wash., Feb. 23.—Representative R. Walton Moore, of Virginia has introduced a resolution in the House for the appointment of a joint select committee of Senators and representatives to make a general survey of government departmental conditions for the purpose of ascertaining whether conditions have grown up as a result of existing laws which should be nullified, reference being given to duplication of work, the great necessity for the regrouping of services, an imperfect system of accounting and other similar matters which have been under discussion for years.

The resolution redeems the promise made to the House during the discussion of the agricultural appropriation bill when Mr. Moore referred to the fact that the Republicans have failed to act in respect to this and other subjects, although they continually point to the expediency of doing everything that is possible to improve government service.

Speaking on the shortage of labor and other causes of the unfavorable agriculture situation, Mr. Moore said: "Since Congress assembled in extra session there has not been one line put upon the statute books, nor one measure adopted by the House, in that direction."

Herbert Hoover, after reading a draft of Mr. Moore's resolution sent this message:

"It is wholly a step forward and I could not improve it. I do hope you can get early action on it."

When Mr. Moore was asked whether he was supporting Mr. Hoover, for the presidency, he replied that he had never talked politics, with Mr. Hoover, and is entirely uncommited, that it must not be thought that he had sought the judgment of Mr. Hoover and other business men on a matter of such importance, except from the standpoint of the welfare of the country.

WOULD AMEND MAPP LAW

Delegate Dodson Offers Measure to Make Half of One Per Cent Alcoholic Limit

Richmond, Feb. 23.—Further amendment of the Mapp prohibition law, defining what shall constitute ardent spirits and fixing the alcoholic content of the same, is provided in a bill introduced in the House Saturday by Delegate Dodson, of Norfolk city.

The bill, which amends section 1 of the Mapp law, reads as follows:

"Whereas ardent spirits as used in this act shall be construed to embrace alcohol, brandy, whisky, rum, gin, wine, porter, ale beer all liquors, absinthe and all compounds or mixtures of any of them; all compounds or mixtures of any of them with any vegetable or other substance; alcoholic bitters; bitters containing alcohol; also all liquids, mixtures or preparations, whether patented or otherwise, which will produce intoxication; fruits preserved in ardent spirits and all beverages containing more than one-half of 1 per centum of alcohol by volume."

The bill was referred to the Moral and Social Welfare Committee.

SYSTEM OF PARKS

Measure Proposing Step is Introduced in House of Delegates With Eight Patrons

Richmond, Feb. 23.—Creation of a system of State parks is proposed in a bill introduced Saturday in the House of Delegates, and which will be introduced today in the Senate. The measure has the backing of good roads enthusiasts in Virginia, and is in reality an adjunct to the highways system now under construction, although under a separate commission, which will serve without pay.

The bill proposes that a commission of five be appointed as a State Park Commission, and that this body be empowered to elect a state park commissioner and fix his salary. An appropriation of $25,000 is asked to start the preliminary work.

The commission would be given power to acquire by gift, condemnation, bequest or devise any lands of peculiar interest from an educational recreational or natural curiosity viewpoint and to build roads or trails to make the property accessible to the public. Leases on parts of the property so acquired could be given for regular terms in order that facilities for taking care of the public could be provided.

Under the bill the State parks would be open to the public for camping purposes, the commissioners being empowered to grant licenses for one year, except that recognized organizations, such as Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls would be given longer terms.

The proposed act is patterned after the national park system, and the State park systems of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and other States. Its purpose is to preserve the historic and natural resources of the State and to make them of benefit to the general public, not only in Virginia, but to tourists. It is proposed to give particular attention to the battle fields now practically cared for by State or Federal governments.

CUTS U. S. COSTS

Estimates for running the government during the fiscal year 1921 will be reduced more than one billion dollars by the present Congress, according to a statement issued yesterday by Representative Mondell, Republican leader.

"Economy to the limit and no new obligations unless they are accompanied by provisions to raise the sum required by taxation" has been the basis of action, according to Mondell.

In reviewing the action of Congress on appropriation bills up to this time, he said that when the legislative bill, which will probably be disposed of tonight, is out of the way the House will have passed seven of the thirteen annual appropriation bills.

All of these but one, the postoffice appropriation bill, has passed the House with large reductions. A saving of approximately 25 per cent has been made on the Indian, rivers and harbors, diplomatic and consular, agriculture, Military Academy and legislative bills.

Influenza and Week Blood

Run Down and Listless Condition May Make You a Target For the "Flu"

Because Blood is Probably Thin

At This Time of Danger, Take Pepto-Mangan—It Builds Rich, Red Blood

No matter how well you usually are, if temporarily you're run down, you're a target for the influenza.

Contagion always gets listless people first. Whether they realize it or not, their blood is thin and undernourished—in no condition to fight off the germs it meets everywhere.

It is a wise precaution to take a good tonic at this time of danger—some well-known builder of red, vigorous blood, like Pepto-Mangan.

And if you did not think of this in time—if you are now recovering from a fight with influenza—your blood will need help for weeks after you think the danger is past.

Take no unnecessary chances. Get Pepto-Mangan and start taking it today. Pepto-Mangan is an effective blood builder that has had the endorsement of physicians for years.

Pepto-Mangan is sold by druggists in either liquid or tablet form, just as preferred. There is no difference in medicinal value. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan. Ask for Gude's Pepto-Mangan and be sure the name is on the package.

PLEA IS GRANTED

Alexander City, Ala., Feb. 23.—John W. Foshee's prayer has been answered. Today his spirit flew by the side of his wife's into the unfathomable.

"Separate no tour souls, oh God!" he prayed at the death bed of Mrs. Foshee, who died of old age yesterday. "Let us come to Thee as we have lived—together."

Awed by the fervor of the prayer and at the tears that fell unheeded down Foshee's hoary cheeks, neighbors stood silent with bowed heads. Then came silence.

The pallor of his face became more pronounced, an ashen hue spread from his chin upward as Foshee knelt gazing upward as is seeking a sight of God. He smiled. Then his lips turned blue. Sighing, he fell forward dead, his head resting upon the side of the bed. His prayer was answered.

DRY ISSUE CANNOT WAIT

Edwards Scoffs at Bryan Splitting Party

Atlantic City, Feb. 22.—Gov. Edward I. Edwards, New Jersey's favorite son in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination, declared here yesterday that he will carry his fight on the eighteenth amendment to the San Francisco convention. He does not care whom the convention may indorse, he said, for he has given no serious thought to reports of his own candidacy, but he is convinced of the necessity for the adoption of an antiprohibition plank at San Francisco. He described William Jennings Bryan, as "a man without a State," and scoffed at the idea that the beerless man will cause a serious split in the party in the event of the convention adopting a wet plank.

SHIP SINKS, 7 MISSING

Seven members of the crew of the Hillstone are missing. Ten others of the ship's company were picked up by the Sachrichl.

The American schooner Margaret and her cargo were damaged to the extent of about $50,000 Friday night as a result of a fire of unknown origin.

PROHIBITION AND MEXICO

The Anti-Saloon League in the United States intends to invade Mexico and other Latin American countries in the near future. North and South America must be made "dry" is their slogan and for this purpose the league has appropriated nearly a million dollars to convert Mexico and nine hundred thousand dollars to cure Cuba of the liquor evil. According to reports published by the League, Mexico will probably go "dry" before many years and their efforts will be turned to other South American countries.—(Mexican Review.

PRUSSIA SNUBS EX-KAISER

London, Feb. 23.—A Berlin wireless message says the Prussian Home Minister has ordered that all pictures of the Hohenzollern family and the insignia of the monarchy be removed from government buildings open to the public. He has suggested that the municipalities follow suit.

REPORT PROMISED

The Mexican Consuls in the United States have been instructed to render detailed reports of the number of Mexicans killed or injured by Americans within their respective jurisdictions. The list is also to include Mexicans citizens who have been robbed, lynched or in any other way molested. It is stated that the number of Mexicans killed in the United States in riots and lynchings reaches a far greater figure than the number of Americans killed by bandits in Mexico. The Government when in receipt of the report will publish a statement which is to be sent to the State Department. (—Mexican Review.

GOMPERS AGAINST PARTY

Labor Chief Decrees Organization Will Support Existing Groups

Washington, Feb. 23.—No separate labor party was the decree yesterday of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

In reply to the executives of the Indiana State Labor Party, who have condemned the political policy of the American Federation of Labor, Gompers declared the "effect of a separate political labor party can only be disastrous to the wage earners of our country." Officials of the Indiana party are in favor of a separate labor political organization.

Placing the proposal to form a separate party in the category of "fallacies of blind theorists," Mr Gompers made clear that the federation would follow its announced policy of supporting friends of labor on either of the major tickets and would likewise strive to defeat the enemies of labor on both tickets. On this point he says:

"Of this one thing you may rest assured: That the day of reckoning is at hand for all those who are in antagonism to the cause of labor and for those who are subtle and equally guilty, even though they clothe tehir actions in the robes of pretended friendship."

BUDAPEST EDITORS SLAIN

Three Bodies Found in Danube Weighted With Rocks

Budapest, Feb. 23.—The murder of the Jewish editor Somozyi, of the newspaper Nepszava, and two of his employes, a subeditor and a poet named Adelbert Vasco, has created a sensation here. The bodies were found in the Danube River weighted with rocks. No clew to the murderers has yet been obtained.

It appears that the three men were seized and carried off in an automobile after which they were blackjacked and the bodies thrown into the river at a convenient spot.

Regret at the murders has been expressed by national assembly. Socialistic organizations are disbanding, fearing that a similar fate will be dealt out to their leaders by secret terrorist societies. The government has inaugurated a determined effort to control the situation.

DECLINE OF RELIGION

Only 44,000,000 of 110,000,000 in U. S. Go to Church

New York, Feb. 23.—"The decline of religion" in the United States was discussed by the Rev. Joseph Fort Newton, in a sermon yesterday at the Church of the Divine Paternity, in which he declared that "20 per cent of the pastors who were with us before the war have resigned to enter other occupations." Dr. Newton recently returned to America after resigning the pastorate of the City Temple in London.

"Of the 110,000,000 people in the United States," he said, "not more than 44,000,000 attend service in any religious denomination. Today there are 3,000,000 less children attending Sunday school than there were in the years before the war."

DEATH OF MAJ. PULLMAN

Double Pneumonia Causes Demise of District of Columbia Official

Raymond W. Pullman, major and superintendent of Metropolitan Police, succumbed to double pneumonia at his home, 55 Ivy street southeast, Washington, early last night. He was 56 years old.

Death occurred at 8.05 o'clock, with a suddenness entirely upsetting the calculations of attending police surgeons, who believed the chance of recovery a good one. Cardiac collapse was the direct cause.

The patient had just awakened from a short nap, during which his pulse and respiration were reassuringly regular.

Mr. and Mrs. Pullman, coming into the room, saw that he was struggling for breath, and hurriedly summoned the physicians. Powerful stimulants were at once administered, but to no avail.

Major Pullman was stricken with pneumonia just one week ago.

For several days oxygen administrations alone prevented one of the many crises from proving fatal

Raymond W. Pullman was born in Washington in November, 1883, the son of a building contractor who resided near Alexandria.

Maj. Pullman became head of police direct from the ranks of newspaper correspondents.

Before he was appointed superintendent, Maj. Pullman was a Sunday school superintendent. He took an interest in the Boy Scout movement and helped its growth to a material extent.

Raymond W. Pullman took office April 1, 1915.

CARDINALS HIT

Rome, Feb. 23.—Because of the increased cost of living, cardinals at the Vatican who have no resources other than their salaries have dismissed their carriages, the expense of maintaining which is four times greater than before the war. The Pope has increased the pensions of Vatican employees from 1 to 25 per cent.

FLU IN BERLIN

German Capital Ravaged by Epidemic —Shortage of Physicians and Nurses

Berlin, Feb. 23.—Berlin is in the grip of the worst influenza epidemic it has ever experienced. The mail telegraph and telephone services are seriously crippled, 700 persons being on the sick list in the Central Telephone office alone. The hospitals are filled to overflowing.

Shortage of physicians and nurses and the weakened physical condition of the poorer classes of the population as a result of under-nourishmen is adding to the extraordinarily hig death rate.

Whereas in former epidemics there were more deaths of men than of women, in the present outbreak th death rate of women is much higher than that of men.

Shortage of coal, and other fuel which has left many dwelling block without heat for days and even weeks has added to the spread of the disease

N. Y. TAX RATE GOES UP

Increase Does Not Justify High Rents, Says Comptroller

New York, Feb. 23.—New York's tax rate on real and personal property for 1920 varies $2.40 to $2.56 for each $100 of taxable property, City Comptroller Craig reported yesterday. This is an increase of from eight to fourteen cents.

The increase, Comptroller Craig stated, does not justify the high rents being charged in this city. "There is no relation whatever," he said, "between the tax rate of 1920 and the very high rents that are now being enforced throughout the city."

"SOVIET ARK" ENDS TRIP

New York, Feb. 23.—The United States Army transport Buford, the "Soviet Ark," which carried Emma Goldman, Alexander Berkman and 247 other undesirable aliens to Russia arrived here last night, just two months and a day after she started her memorable voyage. The transport brought back 46 officers and 293 casuals from Belgium.

They say "fine feathers make fine birds."
There's lots of wisdom in these words, suggests Dainty Dorothy.

Clothes wisdom means clothing thriftiness these days. Even if papa's from Pittsburgh he has cast a stern and forbidding eye in the direction of clothes extravagance. He is having his old suits cleaned and pressed, and found out that some of them didn't show a trace of wear. And he is asking mamma and daughter to fall in line and keep step.
